

Adrian Garza

3D Animator

8401 N New Braunfels Ave Apt 228
San Antonio, TX, 78209
adrian.garza.135@gmail.com
Gameplay Reel

Insomniac Games
2255 N Ontario St #550, Burbank, CA 91504

1 November 2024

Dear Insomniac Games Recruiting,

I am applying for the Animation Intern - Undergraduate position in Burbank, CA.

Insomniac Games has been a giant influence on the gaming industry, and anyone would be amazed to be part of a studio with such quality work. I am also incredibly excited for Marvel's Wolverine that is in the works, and I'm confident that everyone at Insomniac Games will exceed expectation like how it was done with Marvel's Spider-man. I especially loved how responsive the games are, the Spider-Man series feel so satisfying to control and play. The immersion makes it seem as though you're actually controlling Spider-Man. I also admire the strive to experiment into new genres by stepping out of their comfort zone to further push the gaming industry, like with Stormland.

I'm confident that I can help push the gaming industry by create incredibly expressive gameplay animations like the Murloc creature run and walk cycles in my demo reel by pushing timing, spacing, and poses to really give these characters a nice personality. As well as working with motion capture to emphasize movements to create satisfying yet realistic looking animations like the ladder climb and attack animations. Having several types of references facilitated the process several times over while working on blocking and spline passes, and I'm constantly trying to improve how I gather or record reference.

Having daily check-ins and having critiques are one of my favorite parts of animation because it's really insightful to receive notes given so that they can be immediately learned upon for future animation choices. Which is why I also decided to start working as an animation tutor at my University, because I was eager to help others learn and push their principles of animation as well as knowing the importance of critiques and note taking.

If provided the opportunity to be an Animation Inter, I know I can be a great candidate for the position so that I can learn and grow from this experience while outputting the best work possible in a very timely and responsible manner.

Thank you so much for your time and work,
Adrian Garza